EDMONTON REPORT

By Donald F. Smith
Special Correspondent

EDMONTON, The campaign to keep Alberta free of rats will continue this year, particularly along the Alberta-Saskatchewan border, according to J. B. Gurda, assistant provincial supervisor of pest control.

Despite the comparatively small area of the province which is subject to immediate danger, the work done there is of importance to the rest of the province. This probably is realized by many Albertans who have lived in other parts of Canada and in other countries where rats are accepted almost as a permanent nuisance and are costing a lot of money in agricultural and industrial destruction and waste.

Last year's campaign was concentrated on a 25-mile-wide strip from the Cypress Hills in southern Alberta for about 200 miles north along the border. Pest control officials say there are plenty of signs that preventive action will have to be taken farther north this year, possibly as far as the North Saskatchewan river, north of Lloydminster.

There also have been indications that rats will attempt to move west toward Wainwright and west from Lloydminster.

At least two full-time control officers of the province will patrol the border area this summer. One already is on the job checking reports in the area, which was rat-proofed last summer by N. L. Poulin of St. Boniface, Man. and at least one other is to be appointed.

The task of keeping check on the situation in that area has been difficult because it is an unorganized territory. Farther north, officials expect the work will be more effective as most of the municipalities and other organized areas have appointed regular pest control officers. Recognition of the importance of control in Alberta is indicated by the fact local governments have appointed 230 pest control officers.

About 50 farms along the border are known to be harboring rats. Most are problem cases because of buildings which are in run-down condition or constructed in such a way as to be hard to rat-proof effectively.

Pest control officials are encouraged in their work by growing interest of farmers and town and village officials in the danger areas.

Mr. Gurba said Lloydminster has set out bait stations, which are various-shaped boxes containing the poison Warfarin mixed with cornmeal and rolled oats. They have been placed at garbage dumps and other spots where rats have been found. Farmers and other towns are being urged to establish their own bait stations.

At the same time, Mr. Gurba points out that other effective means of stemming the invasion include cleaning up farms and urban centres, eliminating possible hiding places and stopping practices which give rats breeding and eating facilities.

Fortunately, Alberta is protected from the west by the Rocky Mountains and such areas as the Peace River district seem fairly safe from invasion from that quarter. There has been no invasion from south of the international boundary, as the rats seem to be some distance south.

The last traces of a dream of a railroad empire in Alberta and the northland will vanish this summer. An official delegation of Canadian National Railway dignitaries, government and civic officials last week witnessed the removal of the first spike to mark the lifting of the Edmonton, Yukon and Pacific Railway tracks.

Not that the railway with the high-sounding name ever amounted to much and probably few persons have ever heard of it.

It never had more than 10 miles of track, and in fact, never got beyond the city limits of Edmonton. It never came within hundreds of miles of the Yukon or Pacific but it was the first rail line to Edmonton. In the first place, the idea of the railway stemmed from the jealousy between 19th Century Edmonton and its rival on the south bank of the North Saskatchewan river, Strathcona, now part of Edmonton.

Strathcona had been successful in persuading the Calgary-Edmonton railway builders to stop on the south bank of the river about 1890 and it was not until 1913 when a new bridge was completed that the line between Calgary and Edmon-

Operetta Well Received

Choral Society's 'Pinafore' Proves Very Entertaining

Large crowds have been attending the performances this week of the comic operetta, H.M.S. Pinafore, presented by the Vulcan Choral Society, and have been delighted with the quality of entertainment offered.

The famous Gilbert and Sullivan operetta was presented in Vulcan Monday and Wednesday evenings and at Milo Tuesday evening, with further performances this week scheduled for Nanaimo and Lomond.

The excellent costuming of the players adds greatly to what is possibly the most ambitious performance undertaken by a local amateur group. The operetta is directed by John S. Clarke, who also takes one of the leading roles, and credit is due him for doing an excellent job.

In addition to Mr. Clarke, leading roles are taken by Einar Kumlin, Harold Ulmer, Lilian Lancaster, Hazel Cameron, Marion Schrag, Walter Roebuck, Arthur Jones and David Saxby.

Sailors and marines are played by Brian Todd, Ed Roebuck, Chas. Ottewill, Harold Hansen, Albert Collier, Darrel Maisey, Walter Sutherland and Bob Smith and the "sisters, cousins and aunts" in their colorful old-fashioned gowns are portrayed by Terrie McAfee, Betty Jordan, Jeanette Hansen, Marion MacKay, Eva McIntosh, Laura Bucher, Joyce Marsellus, Marianne Burns, Mae Todd, Iris Shields, Erma Graham, Ann Stebbings, Louise Giachetta, Margaret Swartz, Loraine Burns, Frances Clarke, Olive Lukey and Gladys Buehler.

Piano accompaniment is provided by Mrs. Willa Almond.

April Births At Vulcan Hospital

The following births were recorded at the Vulcan Municipal Hospital during the past month:

April 8, to Mr. and Mrs. William Houlton, Vulcan, a son.

April 9, to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lyman, Vulcan, a daughter.

April 10, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Healy, Vulcan, a son.

April 16, to Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Hingst, Vulcan, a son.

April 20, to Mr. and Mrs. Burton Hingley, Champion, a son.

ton was extended by the CPR across the river.

Two attempts by enterprising men to raise money for a cross-river link failed. One of them came after the Klondike gold rush of 1897 and it was at this time the proposed railway was named the EY and P.

Finally in 1899 the first bridge across the Saskatchewan was built and top-level officials of the Canadian Northern Railway, later part of the Canadian National, stepped in, took over the EY and P franchise and built the line from Strathcona to Edmonton. The first train, an engine, passenger coach, boxcar and two flat cars of celebrating Edmontonians rolled across the bridge Oct. 24, 1902.

Passenger service on the little line continued until 1928, then the line was used only by switch engines pulling freight cars to various industries and supply houses on the south side. It chugged and huffed its way from the north side along the river valley and through a creek valley on the south side for many years until the city began objecting that it had an adverse effect on some fine residential property near which it passed.

A few years ago, the CNR and the city came to an agreement. The railway has built a new connecting line to the south side from its Camrose line and the old EY and P, although only a name, is reduced to a memory.

Cold Weather During April

New records for low temperatures in April were set this past month, which was generally cold with frequent snow flurries. Records kept by David B. Sims at his farm in the Berrywater district show April precipitation at 1.74 inches and the highest temperature during the month 34 above. Lowest recorded temperature was 20 below on April 2 and even towards the end of the month the mercury was generally below the freezing point.

Tuesday of this week was a warm, sunny day and it was hoped that spring had finally arrived, but it was again cool on Wednesday, with cloudy skies.

If the weather stays clear it is expected that work on the land can start next week.

Cadet Inspection Friday, May 14

The annual inspection of the Vulcan Legion Cadet Corps will be held at the Armouries Friday, May 14 at 7 p.m.

Following the inspection demonstrations of various types of cadet training will be given. The public is invited to attend.

Capt. Harold Ulmer is Chief Instructor of the Vulcan Cadet Corps.

Celebrate 49th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Lewis, old-timers of the Lomond district now retired and living in Vulcan, celebrated their 49th wedding anniversary on April 27. They were married at Slayton, Minn.

Guests for the special occasion were a son, Milo Lewis; a daughter, Mrs. Gladys Arnold and sons Leland and Garry; Mr. and Mrs. Bolduc, Mr. and Mrs. R. Woodworth, Mrs. Chamber and Mrs. Wilf Fisher.

Kindergarten Class Entertains Mothers

Children of the regular Friday morning kindergarten class met every afternoon during the last week of April. On Thursday at 2:30 p.m. they entertained their mothers. The children sang various songs which they had learned in class. Several children recited nursery rhymes. The recitations were as follows: Lynda Dann "Jack and Jill"; Michael Denbigh "Old Mother Hubbard"; Karen Boutland "Little Bo-Peep"; John McLeod "Little Boy Blue"; Marilyn Joiner "Pussy Cat"; Betty Jane Spach "Humpty Dumpty."

Sally Giles told the story of "Little Red Riding Hood." Karen Boutland told the Bible story of "Little Boy Samuel"; Sharon Chapman, assisted by Ina Haverty, illustrated the Biblical story of Noah and the Ark; Betty Ann Northcott illustrated on the flannelgraph board the story of the "One Thankful Lepre."

Following the program the children introduced their mothers and gave their mothers a serving tray. Four girls remained to serve the mothers while the remainder of the children enjoyed ice cream cones and cookies in the basement of the church building.

Mrs. Doug Smith was in charge of the tea. She was assisted by the mothers.

Vulcan kindergarten closed the last week of April at the end of a full week of activities.

Forty children from the ages of 3 to 6 met from 9:30 to 11 a.m. in the mornings under the supervision of Miss Anne Chapman and Mrs. J. R. Chapman. They were assisted by various mothers of the pre-school children.

During the week the children collected their out-grown clothes for the children of Jamaica.

Eighty percent of the children were present on Friday evening at a program. The Church of Christ sanctuary was well filled with interested parents and friends.

United Nations Stamp Honors ILO

The United Nations Postal Administration pays its respects to the work of the U.N.'s International Labor Organization by the stamp shown above which will be issued on 10 May. The new issue will appear in two denominations, the three-cent in brown and the eight-cent in magenta. It is the second in the Postal Administration's 1954 commemorative series. Winner in an international competition, the design is the work of Mexican artist Jose Renau. The anvil at the base of the stamp symbolizes the labor problems throughout the world which are the agency's concern.

Palmer Boys Win In Provincial Boxing Finals

Buddy and Tommy Palmer scooped up two championships for the Champion Boxing Club at Edmonton in the Provincial Amateur Boxing Finals held Saturday night.

Buddy Palmer was awarded the coveted Canadian Legion Belt as best open fighter for his comparatively easy knockout victory over Bob Hamilton of Edmonton, in the 125 lb. open division. This belt is awarded the most outstanding and scientific fighter in the province.

Tommy Palmer exploded in the fourth round with a knockout victory over Tommy White of the South Side Legion Club in the 130 lb. open class. He had taken a split decision over George Nelson the previous night.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

There is the old saying "Clean Up, Paint Up, Beautify Your Home." This I have tried to do—both to what avail—on Vulcan's dusty main streets!

This is the first evening that has belonged to spring, 8 p.m., 60 degrees above, a very gentle breeze. You'd like to enjoy the outside but from where I sit you can't see as far as one block toward town. Even with the restricted speed limit which is generally enforced, the air is choked with dust. Any effort to paint is hopeless—unless you are extremely fortunate you get a sandpaper finish. To beautify a home with shrubs and flowers is a task. Plants cannot survive with a layer of dust falling on them continually.

Does the town encourage the individual? Take a look at the town property: the old golf course, the ball diamond, the town rink. Boards, rocks, any kind of debris thrown up on boulevards from street grading is not replaced or disposed of. Merchants on the main street—and they practically all are—must lose money on goods.

And what of the poor housewife who lives anywhere along this street or on many others in town? Traffic from every direction into town surely warrants the oiling of the main streets—the proper way. The oiling job last year prevented dust for a week or so. If properly done it should have lasted all season, at least.

Here's part of a conversation overheard on the main corner in Vulcan by two ladies who patronize the merchants of this town.

"If any other town of this size were closer I would most certainly shop there in preference to Vulcan. The dust here bothers me so, I am choked up and miserable any time I come to town."

Regular WWS Meeting Held

The April meeting of the WWS was held at the home of Mrs. Alex Kaiser, April 28. Mrs. Cook was in charge of devotions. A special musical number was enjoyed, and a message on Prayer given by Mrs. Bud Snider. Two missionary letters were read.

The business meeting followed and roll call was answered with 12 members present.

The work done during the year was outlined as follows. About 300 lbs. of clothing was sent to Korea; 8 pairs of pyjamas to the Redbird Mission in Kentucky; a parcel of bandages to Miss Alma Hix, used Christmas cards to missionaries for over $200 raised and sent out for missions.

The regular business was discussed and the meeting closed with prayer.

A lovely lunch was then served by the hostess.

Mrs. Chas. Budd will be hostess for the next meeting.

thma victims suffer under these conditions? How does it affect our small children who have to play along these main streets and out school children who are on the streets to and from school and after school?

What does the mayor and his colleagues do to help such undesirable conditions?

In conclusion I venture to say if the town could see fit to make some improvement, many ratepayers would be happy to do their part.

Town Ratepayer

Editor, Vulcan Advocate.

Dear Sir:

I would like to take exception to the statement in the letter written by C. J. Versluys, of Champion, in the Advocate of April 29, in which he states that I intimated in the Municipal Cleaning Plants were capable of cleaning 10,000 bushels of seed in one day.

If Mr. Versluys will look again he will see that I made no such intimation, and that the only reference I made to cleaning capacity was when I quoted Mr. Parkinson of the Provincial Department of Agriculture in which he said that "The ten plants in the province were at the present time turning out approximately 20,000 bushels a day of clean seed", and 10,000 bushels was not even mentioned as a daily figure or any other figure.

Yes, if a plant such as is proposed here will turn out 100-125

May Vote at Any Poll

County-wide Vote May 8 On Seed Cleaning Plant

Vulcan County ratepayers will go to the polls on Saturday, May 8 to vote on By-Law No. 60, which would authorize the Council of the County of Vulcan to contribute the sum of $15,000.00, or any less amount deemed advisable, towards the construction of a Seed Cleaning Plant at Vulcan. Details of the plan are that the Provincial Government will contribute a similar amount up to $15,000.00 as contributed by the County Council. Balance of the cost of the erection of the plant would be borne by the members of the Seed Cleaning Association. It is estimated that the plant will cost in the neighborhood of $45,000.00 to $50,000.00.

The voting will be from 9:00 o'clock in the forenoon until 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Polls will be located conveniently throughout the County. Polls have been established at the following places: Carmanay, Champion, Kirkcaldy, Alston Hall, Vulcan, Ensign, Brant, Herrington, Mossleigh, H. Tharlie Residence, Arrowwood, Queens-town, Milo, Berrywater Hall, Ar-nadna and Lomond. Those eligible to vote on the By-Law are the proprietary electors or ratepayers only, which means that only land owners may vote. A majority of the votes is necessary to insure the passing of the By-Law.

The Whole County has been established as one polling division with a complete voter's list at each poll. Voters may vote at any convenient place. Only those ratepayers who are qualified prior to the date of the first reading of the by-law will be permitted to vote.

Any person whose name is not on the voters' list and is qualified to vote by virtue of his owning property in the County may have his name placed on the list by taking a statutory declaration in front of the Returning Officer.

Guides-Brownies Special Program

A Mother's Day program has been arranged for the 1st Vulcan Guides and Brownies and will be held Monday, May 10 at 7 p.m. in the Scout-Guide hall. During the evening, new Brownies will be enrolled and service stars, golden bars and proficiency badges will be awarded.

Refreshments will be provided and it is hoped that as many parents as possible will attend. The program is in charge of Mrs. Hyslip, Mrs. Reg Walker and Mrs. Art Scott, with refreshments convoked by Mrs. Neilsen Robertson.

Ladies Auxiliary Makes Donations

The April meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary was well attended with Mrs. John Hunter presiding. Mrs. H. Matlock acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Sparks who is ill.

Donations of $5 each was made to the Canadian Cancer Society and to the Woods Christian Home.

Mrs. Gordon Guimond was initiated as a new member and heartily welcomed by all.

A report on the recent tea and bake sale sponsored by the Auxiliary showed a substantial amount realized, and thanks was extended to the public for their patronage.

Plans were discussed for attending the annual Zone rally, to be held this year at Pincher Creek, May 19. All members desirous of attending are asked to contact Mrs. Hunter as soon as possible to enable her to arrange for transportation.

Members are also asked to note that the May meeting will be one week later than usual, which will be Wednesday, May 27. A dainty lunch was served by Mrs. O. A. Craig, Mrs. A. C. Marsh and Mrs. P. Simpson.

bushels an hour throughout the year it will be quite capable of supplying clean seed to most everyone that wants to use it.

Yours very truly,
H. S. Burns.

Local Farmer Wins Income Tax Appeal In Grain Case

The contention of a local farmer that delivery of grain to an elevator did not constitute a sale and that its value as shown on receipts did not have to be included in income of that year has been supported by the income tax appeal board.

R. J. McFadden of the Ensign district had appealed from a ruling of the income tax branch which contended that wheat he had delivered for storage and for which he had receipts showing a total value of $8,147 should be considered as part of his income for the year, as the receipts, dated at Calgary July 31, 1951, were in lieu of payment.

The evidence showed that Mr. McFadden, short of storage space on his farm, had made an arrangement with the National Grain Co. Ltd. to take delivery of wheat at their elevator in Ensign. He did not wish to sell the wheat at the time and arranged that no payment would be made by the company until he asked for it. The wheat was not sold until after 1951.

The appeal was allowed by the income tax appeal board, not so much on the argument that the grain was stored and not sold as on the fact that the receipts for the $8,147 worth of grain were not negotiable and therefore could not be considered as payment.

The Use of Nurse Crops in Southern Alberta

The following information published on April 29 by R. K. Downey of the Experimental Station at Lethbridge deals with a popular subject.

Nurse crops, or companion crops as they are better named, have been studied by the Forage Crops Section at the Lethbridge Experimental Station for a number of years. Results have shown that in the brown soil zones, and in the drier areas of the black soils, no nurse crops should be used. In these areas there is a definite risk of a stand failure of the forage crop because of the competition of the fast-growing cereals. Even on irrigated land and in the more moist areas companion crops are not recommended because of reduced return per acre in the year following seeding. In some cases, yield reductions are carried over into the second year. Reductions of a ton or more of alfalfa in the year following seeding can be expected when a nurse crop is used, while fall grazing on irrigated pastures seeded without a nurse crop has given higher returns than the nurse crop.

The poor yields, reduced stands, and occasional failures that result when a nurse crop is used can be attributed to three main causes. First, the fast-growing annuals are better adapted to compete for moisture and nutrients than the slower growing grasses and legumes. Second, the cereals tend to shade the grasses and legumes, resulting in spindly, weakened growth. Third, too often the forage crop is seeded at the same depth as the cereal. Forage crops should be seeded in the upper inch of soil.

Where soil drifting is a problem, a companion crop seeded on the windward side of the field or in strips at right angles to the prevailing winds is of some value. Where a nurse crop is to be used on dryland to prevent drifting, the order of preference is as follows: flax, wheat, oats and barley. On irrigated land the recommended companion crop is oats. It should be sown at half the usual rate and cut early for green feed.

Two Great World-Wide Organizations Unite

Massey-Harris, pioneer in the farm implement industry, pioneer in power farming equipment and world-leader in the self-propelled combine, now becomes greater than ever by the acquisition of Ferguson—pioneer in the application of hydraulics and the mounting of implements to make tractor and implement an integral unit—known universally as the Ferguson System, which has been much imitated but never duplicated. From the pooling of engineering skills, the more advantageous use of manufacturing facilities and efficiency that can be effected under a single management, the new organization of Massey-Harris-Ferguson goes forward to make a greater contribution than ever by developing new and more efficient machines to make farming easier and more profitable.
